My understanding is that the initial data from the RI is in and that a summary report is being prepared. I expect that will be available soon and we will work to make it available on our webpage (or link to it) as soon as possible. When I send out the CIP, I will include a short update about that.

Thanks Susan!

Thank you. I will review the draft and send any questions or comments. When do you anticipate the first testing data being available?
Susan

Hi Susan,

I hope all is going well and that spring is threatening to emerge in Columbia Falls. We still have snow on the ground in Helena but not for long. The days are getting warmer and the ice is retreating!

Attached is the initial draft community involvement plan for the CFAC site. I will be sending this to the community through a site update later this week but wanted to give you a courtesy advanced look. Our plan is to make changes to this draft based on community feedback. Please let me know if you have recommendations or questions.

Mike and I are also hoping to visit Columbia Falls in the next month or so to follow up on the site investigation initial data and report. We'll coordinate with you to find a good time.

I follow up with you soon. Thanks Susan!
